

Environmental Writer Featured on 'Conversations'

Published May 13, 2010
The Day, New London, CT
by Suzanne Thompson

Old Lyme's Comcast Cable Public Access Channel 14 presents "Conversations," an ongoing public access series at 7 p.m. on the second and fourth Mondays of each month.

In May, "Conversations" host Olwen Logan talks with local journalist Suzanne Thompson, whose "CT Outdoors" column appears in the Lyme Times. Thompson talks about her background and her radio program on WLIS, and describes her efforts to create a series of radio shows, podcasts, print, and blog articles about environmental outreach efforts in Southeastern Connecticut.

Visit savetheriver-savethehills.org/sound-decisions to find out more. "Conversations" with Suzanne Thompson airs May 24.

"Conversations" is taped at the Comcast Public Access Studio in Old Lyme. To suggest a topic or guests for future programs, contact "Conversations" producer Catherine Frank at 434-1605, ext. 210, or cfrank1118@aol.com.